

The background is a colorful illustration from the book 'The Lorax'. It depicts a lush landscape with a blue river flowing through it. On the left, a yellow wagon with red wheels is being pulled by a brown donkey. The wagon has the words 'ONCE-LER WAGON' written on its side. The landscape is filled with various trees, including the iconic Truffula trees with their bright, spiky canopies in shades of red, orange, and yellow. The sky is a pale blue. A semi-transparent green rectangle is overlaid on the upper part of the image, and a semi-transparent blue rectangle is overlaid on the lower part, both containing text.

Diary Entry

Write a diary entry from the point of view of the boy in the story of the Lorax.

Diary Entry

In the book 'The Lorax' a small boy goes wandering up to the far end of town to the street of the lifted Lorax.

Diary Entry

There, he find the house of the Once-ler and, once he has paid the correct fee, he hears the story of how the Lorax got lifted and taken away.

Today's task

Imagine you are the boy in the book. Write a diary entry describing what happened that day. Include all the weird and wonderful things the once-ler told you and the last Truffula seed that you received at the end.

Example

Dear Diary,
I had the most peculiar day! It started in the morning, as I wandered to the edge of town to the street of the lifted Lorax. I had never dared go that far before and was feeling a mixture of excitement and nerves! As I reached the tall and decrepit tower of the Oncer-ler, he let down a bucket into which I placed my money and an old, shiny silver nail...

Remember!

- Write in the first person – you are imagining that you are the boy.
- Write about the events in the order that they happened (first, next, then, finally).
- Use descriptive language to make your writing interesting.
