

Dear parents: Quite some week with Holocaust Memorial Day on Monday and the Six Nations and Super Bowl coming up this weekend as January finally draws to a close. My least favourite month of the year. Incredible to see survivors of Auschwitz returning to mark liberation day. I visited the site a couple of years ago and it is a remarkable place. The main killing site was in Birkenau some 3 kilometres away and I found that even more moving. Everyone should visit one day. Remarkable attendance for parents evening and our best ever so well done.

We also this week received a letter from Education Minister Nick Gibb (second one this year) congratulating us on our KS2 Sats results of 100%. Puts us in the top 2% of schools in the country. Anyway I hope you enjoy our new giant wall map of Europe that went up today. Au revoir, auf wiedersehen, ciao hasta la vista....

School news ... this week

Monday . Y5@ The Royal Observatory Greenwich. + Islamic Art week

Wednesday... Year 5 assembly on Earth and space see below. Well done Ms Harries and Y5.

Governors and Buildings Fund January 2020

Total = £2,290 @ January 31st today. A good start and we need every penny and pound.

School news ... next week

Monday . Children's Mental Health week

Wednesday... Year 4 assembly 9.15am all welcome.

Thursday .. CAFOD Lenten assembly.

Parental attendance

Outstanding and quite remarkable Nursery Reception Year s 1 2 3 4 all had 100% attendance from parents. Years 5 and 6 96.7% . Overall 99.6% attendance a great sign and well done.

Pics of the week ... Year 5 @ Greenwich and assembly.... Resilience assembly awards ...

Ms Asia teaching about Islam and art ... a new map going up today.

and finallya leader in business this week asked for companies to ban football banter and conversations about VAR ... I agree if in return we ban conversations about Love Island OK I've never watched a single second of it but ... anyway as January moves away it's the wonderful Six Nations and Super Bowl Sunday. some weekends can be great ... we had a no notice health check on our school's kitchen this week (they are always unannounced) and Ms Florence has been beaming away since Tuesday results next week ... and please don't mention the Br word to me ? ?...Brighton they are playing West Ham !!