OLI: To write a description

Ottoline likes to wear disguises. Look at her outfit and think of ways to describe what she looks like now.

Try to use similes and some good adjectives to describe the different things she is wearing. You can describe size, colour and material. Think of different details on the items as well. Does anything look like something else?

Don't forget to also describe Ottoline herself.

When you have written your description, read it to another member of your family and see if they imagine something like this picture.
